

Kind Attention – candidates PGET 2011

As it was notified earlier the 2nd and final round of COMEDK PGET 2011 Counselling has been postponed and the date is yet to be decided. Therefore, candidates who could not surrender the provisional seat allocation or confirmed seats on or before 19th April 2011 have now been permitted either to surrender the seats so chosen and the last date for doing so is five days prior to the date of 2nd round of counseling, which will be notified in due course. The fees deposited by such candidates would be refunded by deducting Rs.1000/- towards administrative expenses.

Candidates having availed the confirmed seat may take back the originals if they require the same to attend the counseling elsewhere and the confirmed seats chosen by such candidates would be converted into provisional seats; such candidate will have to give an undertaking to this effect. However if the seat so converted as provisional is not reconfirmed / Surrendered within five days prior to the date of 2nd round of counseling the said seat is deemed to have been forfeited and added to the pool of seats for the 2nd and final round.

Candidates who have availed confirmed seat are expected to report to the concerned colleges, as per the Madhu Singh Judgment, on or before 30th April 2011. However, as there is a provision in the same judgment, the candidates are at liberty to avail the said provision viz., “Last date upto which students can be admitted against vacancies arising due to any reason to 31st May 2011”. As the 2nd round of counseling date is yet to be fixed, the colleges coming under COMEDK have been given the option to admit the students either on 30th April 2011 or 31st May 2011.
